Foreword

Today, when at least a high school education is offered to all youth, a definite need for personal guidance in the school's curriculum is required. The student's choice of studies, the extra curricular activities in which he may participate, will depend largely on the career he chooses and on this he needs advice. Central Catholic, which has expanded her guidance program to meet the present day challenge, has always practiced individual guidance. The following pages of the 1960 Centripetal will show that each phase of the school's life is under personal guidance.

A student who enters Central soon realizes that "Christ, the Way, the Truth, and the Life", is the school's first Guidance Counselor, to Whom he can turn at any time for help. He finds that in the classrooms, the clubs, the organizations, and the sports, there are teachers; moderators, and coaches ever ready to lend a guiding hand.

He, as one of the 2,100 students who seek advice, will recognize in each one of the 86 faculty members a true counselor—a willing guide.

Master Guidance . . .

. . . offered by Christ, the Way, the Truth and the Light, to all students who turn to Him for perpetual guidance. Monsignor Harrington distributes Holy Communion at Student Mass.

Dedication

Ten years ago Rev. Michael J. Walz, a man deeply devoted to his work, came to Central to assist Monsignor John L. Harrington in guiding the youth of Central Catholic High.

Father, who was born in Defiance, Ohio, attended St. John grade school there. He completed his education at St. Joseph, Rensselear, Indiana, St. Gregory Seminary, Cincinnati, and St. Mary Seminary, Norwood, Ohio.

On June 15, 1935, he was ordained a priest by Bishop Karl J. Alter, now Archbishop Alter of Cincinnati. His first appointment was to SS. Peter and Paul parish, Mansfield, Ohio, where he served as assistant pastor. From there he went to Immaculate Conception parish, New York, where he continued his studies for a Master's Degree at Fordham and Columbia Universities.

Upon his return to the diocese Father Walz served as principal of St. Wendelin's high school in Fostoria. In 1950 he was appointed assistant principal of Central. During the past ten years Father has been an inspiration for every Centralite whom he directed and guided through the teen years. It was with mixed feelings of pride and sorrow that the students heard the news that Father was assigned the first principalship of the new Cardinal Stritch High School, the first co-institutional high school in the diocese.

On this, the occasion of the silver jubilee of his ordination, the Centripetal staff in sincere appreciation for his fatherly guidance, dedicates this, the 1960 Centripetal, to Rev. Michael Walz, assistant principal of Central Catholic High.

Silver Jubilarian . . .

Rev. Michael J. Walz, M.S.E.
Assistant Principal

. . . whose ten years at Central have been spent in directing students in their quest for knowledge.

Diocesan Head . . .

The Most Reverend George J. Rehring, S.T.D.
Fourth Bishop of Toledo

. . . in whom Central has found a sincere friend.

Central's Principal . . .

Monsignor John L. Harrington, S. T. B.

. . . whose fatherly guidance has enlightened the path for the many students who entered the portals of C.C.H.S.

Classroom Instruction . . .

. . . where men and women dedicated to the service of youth endeavor to instill in their pupils a desire for learning. Sister Marcelline , O.S.F., delves into the effects of Gibberellin.

Gateway To Grace

C. Thompson and D. Sobczak talk "it" over with Father P. King, OMI.

One of the most important spiritual activities of the school year at Central, is the annual retreat. It is a time of recollection and meditation within the entire student body. This complete silence lasts over a span of three days. This year through the ample advice and guidance of the retreat masters, Father King, OMI, and Father McCartin, OMI, the students were provided with much opportunity for spiritual advancement.

D. Ginter, T. Grime and Father F. McCartin, OMI, at a "special" Retreat conference.

Goal and Guide

B. Carney, J. White, F. David, J. Wiesolek know Father T. Beauregard will not call on them.

Through the four year Religion course here at Central, the students learn the art of loving God more fully. This knowledge is provided so that they might better love and serve Him.

The freshman year is dedicated to the Creative Love of God the Father; the sophomore year to the Redeeming Love of God the Son; and the junior year to the Sanctifying Love of God the Holy Ghost. The senior year is dedicated mainly to vocations, thus preparing the graduates for a happy life through the graces of God.

Poise With Performance

Mrs. Weiher explains speech fundamentals to R. Fabos and P. Pieczynski.

While speech is natural, its exercise depends upon special training. This is the primary purpose of public speaking. The skill in making yourself understood, to convey your ideas intelligently, and to listen attentively are developed in this class.

Speeches, debates, and panel discussions are a few of the methods used to attain this necessary art of speaking. In timed speeches students present their ideas on various subjects to their classmates. Formal and informal debates and panel discussions are necessary for the development and stimulation of the mind.

Poise, self possession and the ability to express one's thoughts correctly before others are some of the enviable benefits which are carried through to the student's outside activities. Some of the outside activities where the student demonstrates his obtained knowledge are the Senior Class Play, the Glee Club, and the C.Y.O Oratorical Contest.

This year in the diocesan Oratorical contest, seniors Ann Bartko and Tom Szyperski placed first in their respective divisions.

Learning The Language

J. Dugan shows Sr. Mary Austin the object of the sentence as K. Dombrowski, S. Kruzel look on.

The key notes of this major subject are knowledge, improvement, and appreciation. Emphasis is placed on the study and value of classical literature as well as the application of correct oral English and composition.

Learning our language may sound elementary to you. However, English, one of the most difficult languages, is a compulsory subject here at Central. The ability of being able to communicate correctly with one another is of vital importance.

Our curriculum covers all aspects of functional English. Grammar is emphasized in the freshman and sophomore years. The research essay is one of the major requirements of the juniors. The seniors have the opportunity of taking English Literature, English Composition, Journalism or Public Speaking.

By the end of their four years, the students have achieved a deeper appreciation of classical literature and a greater understanding of our native language.

German

Sprechen Sie Deutsch?

German is one of the most fascinating language studies offered here at Central. The students first learn the vocabulary, pronounciations, and fundamental rules. Secondly they acquire a more complete understanding of the language by studying the geography, customs, industries, and politics of Germany.

German magazines and books compliment the language study and make it more interesting. Research in the country's art and music round out the course.

Time is being discussed in German by D. Herman while others in the class are "marking it."

Quis dixit linguam Latinam esse mortuam!

R. Stucker, D. Hodak, R. Staley use a Latin motif for their Color Day theme.

The mother of the Romance languages, Latin, is offered as a four year course to Centralites. It is certainly not a dead language as it is used widely, even today, in medical technology and in the training of priests.

In the first year the students grasp the fundamentals of the language. The second year finds them translating Caesar's Gallic Wars. Cicero's Orations and some Christian Latin are taken in their third year of study and finally, the last year, the students master Virgil.

French

Ici on Parle Francais?

France, a country rich in tradition and color, offers a challenge to the first year French student.

For the first two years grammar is stressed with a glimpse of France's history and her people. In the third year the student learns many of the idioms of the French language and reads a French novel. This year the novel read by the students was "The Summer of St. Martin." By reading the novel the student becomes better acquainted with the language and receives a first hand look at the people.

France is fast becoming a world power and through his studies, the student obtains a better understanding of the country's background and the type of people who live there.

Chef M. Stricker takes the order for French dinners from S. Mennett, M. Przeniczny, A. Valencia, M. Landry, M. Gaber.

Spanish

¿Como se llama usted?

S. Miles, K. Jablonski, M. Hernandez's answer to Sr. Felicitas' question must have been a laughing matter.

This phrase, one of the first a Spanish student learns, opens for him the door to one of the most colorful, romantic nations of the world.

Central students are offered a four year course in Spanish during which time they learn the grammar, customs, geography, and history of Spain. The course for the first two years is devoted mainly to grammar while the subject during the last two years is focused on a more thorough background of the country and its people.

With the eye of the world focused on the South American countries, the Spanish student, through his studies can more thoroughly understand the people and therefore help to foster a better relationship with our Spanish speaking neighbors.

Individuality Through Creativeness

"This is the way to do it," Sr. Genevieve states, as she demonstrates the art of carving to D. Krall, J. Young, P. Michalak and P. McKeig.

Boys' Art classes, under the direction of Sister Genevieve, as a special project this year, experimented with unusual techniques of continuous line, textiles, and string and ink to increase their creative ability. The boys are also preparing a portfolio, using pencil, India ink, and dry brush for their samples, which will aid them in seeking a job or preparing for college.

An exchange of art with Toledo, Spain, was introduced this year. Various watercolors were entered using Toledo, Ohio, as a theme. The boys also entered watercolors using their daily life as a setting for the Junior Red Cross project which is held annually.

Girls' Art

Joy Through Productivity

Tile mosaics intrigue D. Siminek and S. Hohenbrink while paper mache fascinates L. Kondalski and B. Dore.

In the girls' art department a contemporary theme was stressed for their creative work this year. Cutting, fluting, tearing and bending are terms widely used in the art of paper sculpture covered by them. Also as a new project the girls experimented with colored glass which was fired in a kiln and then used for a stained glass mobile.

The study of art history is important as a background for the girls' own creative work. Art history is divided into four cycles; Modern art is made more interesting as each girl represents an artist—and uses material as music and literature to correlate with the life and ways of the artist she chooses.

Story Of Mankind

Sr. Mary of Mercy points to spots of interest on A. Bearley's relief map. B. Siwa and E. Ball enjoy her comments.

History, the study of man's achievements through the ages, is offered Central's students in a three year course.

Man's early development is studied through Ancient History, while history through the latter centuries and its significance on modern government is studied in Modern History. The third and final year course, American History, is taken by all students in their junior or senior year. From the discovery of America to our present day, American History students see their country grow.

Throughout the history courses the leaders of tomorrow are given a better knowledge of the past and present civilizations and of the people who built them. A better knowledge will lead to a better understanding of our fellow men and our ultimate goal —world peace.

Inform Citizens Of Tomorrow

Mr. Basich has the floor in the economics class.

Sr. M. Chrysostom "wields the stick", not the gavel, in the study of government.

Government. "A government of the people, by the people, and for the people" is the desire of the Central seniors after the completion of their semester of government. The Christian Social Principles are instilled in their minds, so that they might better understand the means for attaining this type of Government.

Sociology is the study of society and of the patterns governing group behavior. This class is offered for one semester and is very worthwhile since it gives Catholic opinions on the problems and evils of society and how to remedy them.

Economics, the science of the laws of production, exchange, distribution and consumption enables the student to understand the already accepted basic principles of our country. During the year students buy and sell stocks, observing the profits and losses of their expenditures.

Drafting

Accuracy And Angles

Future draftsmen J. Mertz, T. Rigdon, G. Auth, A. Marshall, P. Zielinski, S. Hoffman and R. Thuel compare tomorrow's models.

Accuracy, the keynote to drafting, is stressed in the two year course offered to Central students. With the recent demand for more engineers, there has been an increased interest in the drafting course offered to Central boys.

The first year of the two year course acquaints the student with the basic fundamentals of drafting—the principles of orthographic projection, pictorial drawing, and surface development.

The second year, aimed for the most part at the future mechanical engineers, goes into the details of drawing in size and shape descriptions.

With the completion of the second year the student is equipped to enter a college course with the basic knowledge of drafting.

Stimulating Logical Thinking

B. Radkiewicz seems to be more interested in Sr. Teresita's motions than her theory. D. Roller, D. Kazmierski, J. Carroll, K. Radecki and T. Opaczewski are taking her more seriously.

Students who are seeking a challenge will discover that mathematics stimulates the brain and develops thinking power.

C.C.H.S. offers courses in general mathematics, elementary algebra, plane geometry, intermediate and advanced algebra, solid geometry and trigonometry.

With all the rockets and satellites of today, many well trained scientists are needed. Therefore, math has become an essential subject.

At least one year of math is required to graduate and a future college student must have a full credit in geometry. Junior and senior year mathematics are optional, but develop further the techniques of good, solid thinking.

Fighting The Fumes

In the chemistry classes young minds are trained in the fascinating fields of science. Students learn the basic elements, the structure of the atoms, and their important compounds. Twice a week they go to lab to experiment with their new knowledge. Periodical bulletins are offered to students who wish to increase their scientific abilities.

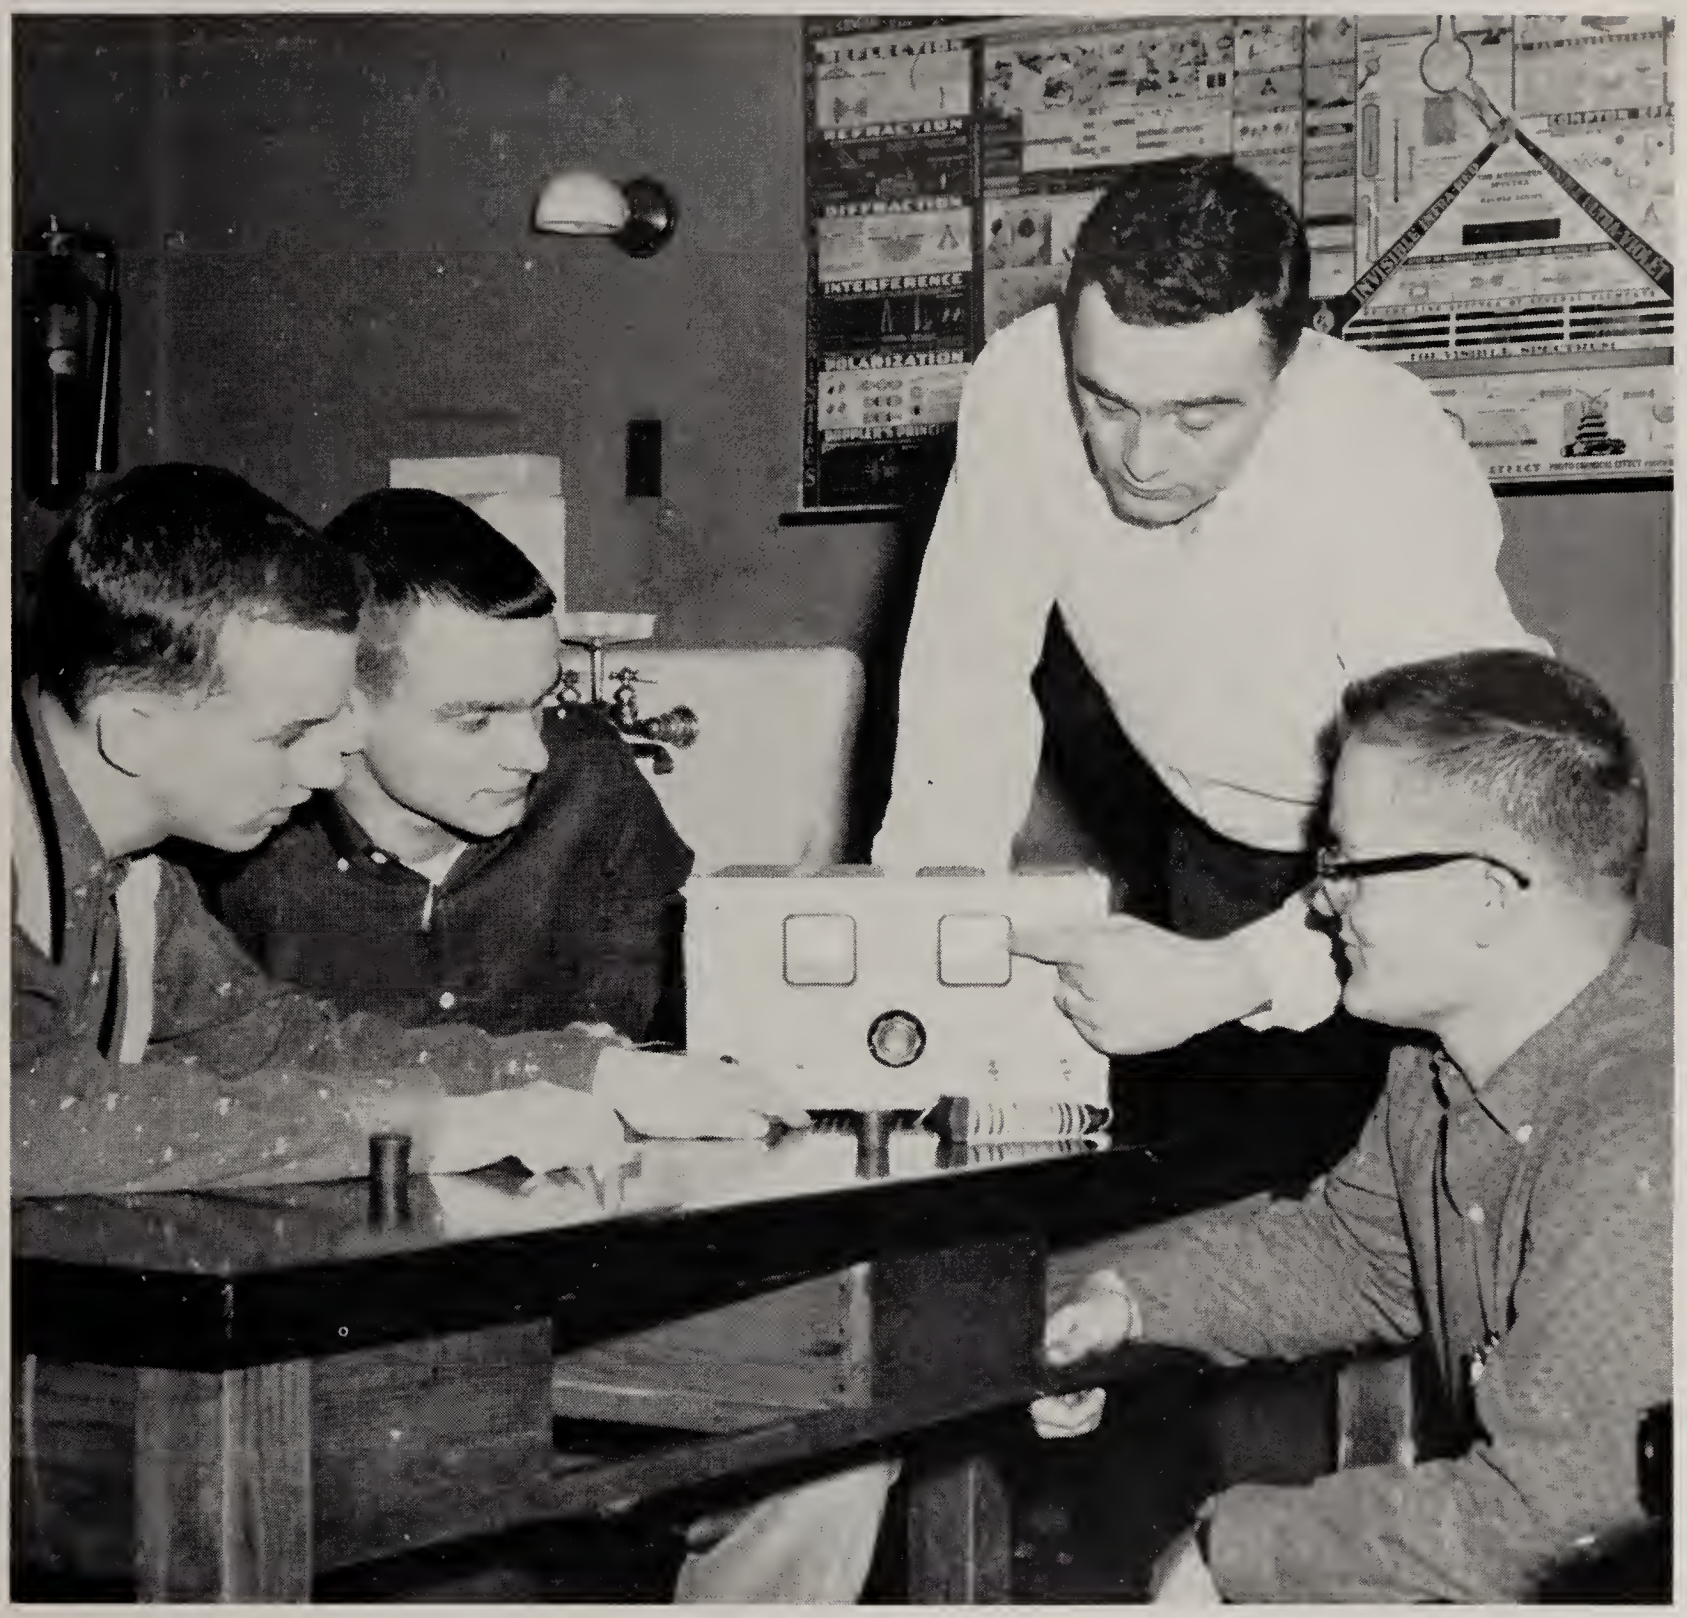
The realization of the importance of chemistry in industry has prompted a greater enrollment in this class.

Chemistry projects are entered in Science Day at the Universities of Toledo and Bowling Green and Central's chemistry department is always well represented by many superior ratings.

This year at the first Toledo Science Fair, Central's science students entered one hundred and eleven projects. Of these projects, forty-six received superior rating, forty-one excellent and twenty-four, good. In the Bowling Green Science Day exhibit which followed, of the ninety-nine exhibits and papers entered by Central students, nine merited superior ratings.

Sr. Florian advises M. J. Bettinger on the placement of her last crystal.

Doorway to Engineering



Mr. Finn shows the workings of an electro-meter to M. Tynan, T. Cyranowski, and M. Gospodarek.

Physics is exceptionally important in this age of scientific advancement. As a result many Centralites are participating in this study to gain much-needed scientific knowledge.

Students learn the basic ideas upon which our scientific facts are based. Mr. Finn guides the laboratory experiments and Mr. Fischer gives lectures during the week. Educational movies are an important factor in the students' curriculum.

Many of the physics students entered projects for competition on Science Day at T.U. and Bowling Green State University. Scope of project, originality, and sustaining interest, were some of the classifications used by the judges in rating the science projects entered.

Sr. Casilda depicts the working of the brain as J. Kesting, B. Beyer, and J. Sullivan listen in.

Physiology

Human Anatomy

To study the functions of each part of the body, is to further realize the wonders of God. Through this course, students greatly appreciate the gift of life which God has given them.

Personality conflicts and complexity of the mind are some of the problems which can be corrected through the study of this subject. The physical, moral, mental, and social aspects of life are the basis for this most informative class.

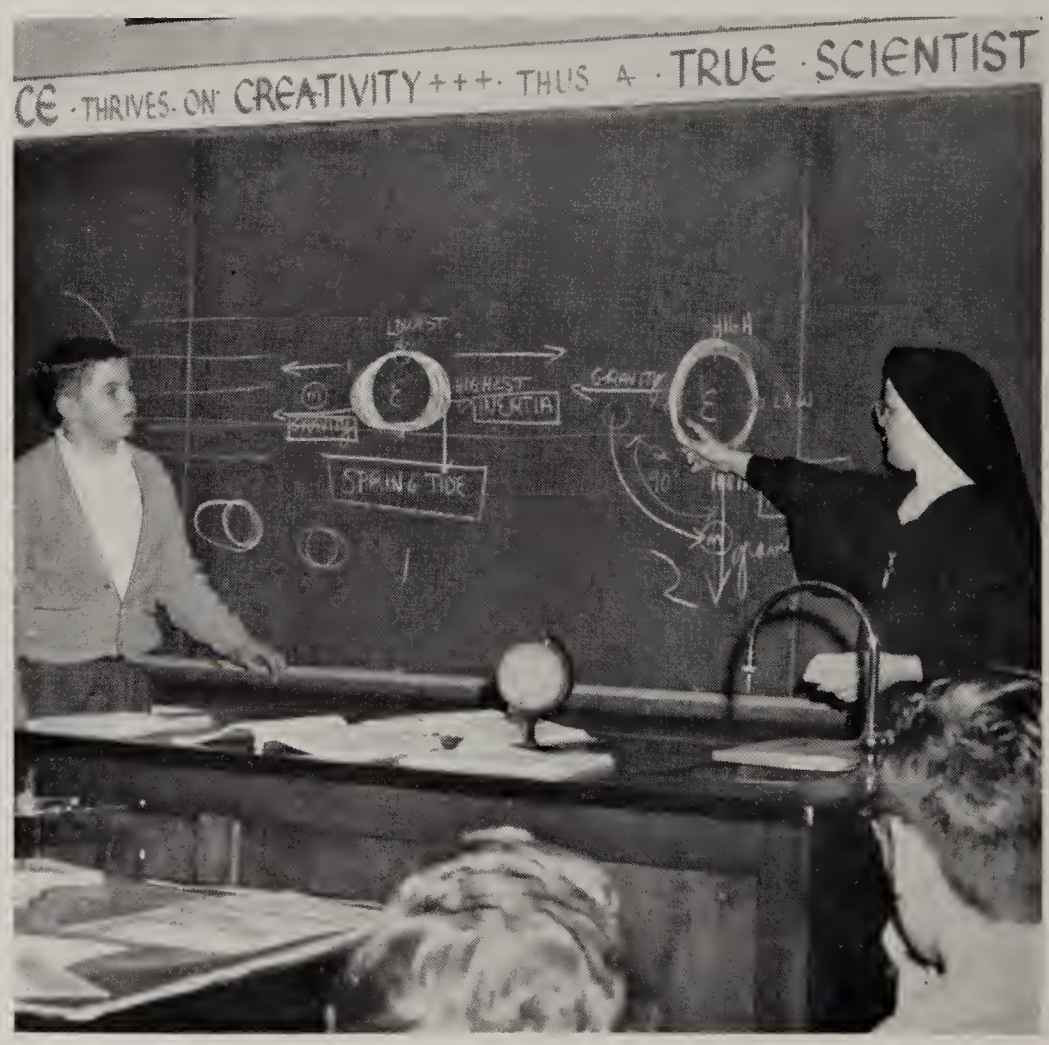
Much success is achieved by the students through their projects, observations, and serious study of physiology.

General Science

Introduction to the Scientific World

General science, the basis of all sciences, is a subject which acquaints the students with a better understanding of scientific developments and lays the foundation for advanced courses in biology, physics, and chemistry.

This first year course deals with the matter which closely affects one's everyday life by which the student learns to know God better through His creation.



Is K. Kania interested in Sr. Alcuin's explanation of gravity or inertia?

Biology

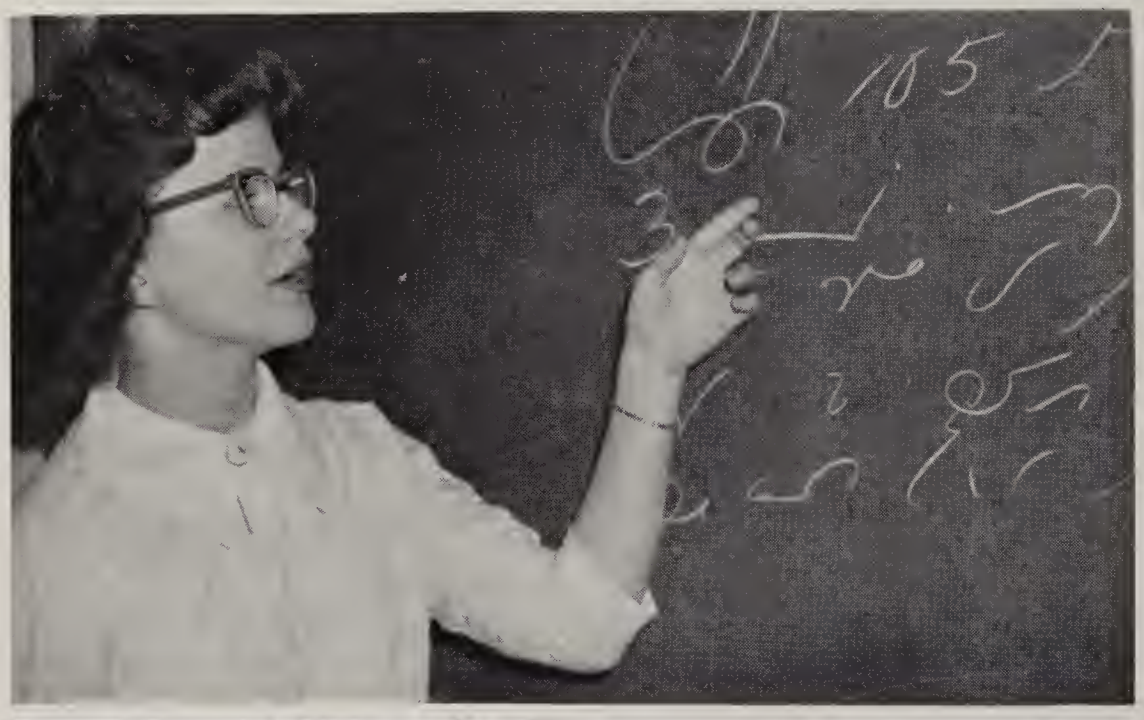
Understanding God's Creations

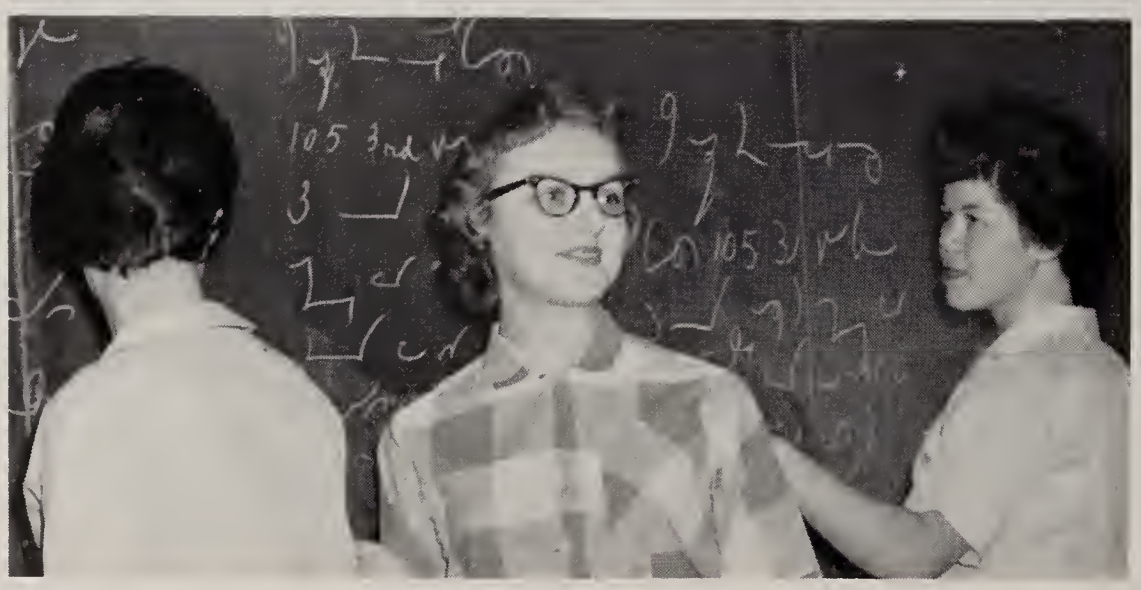
B. Dietz and J. Kurdy "bone up" for a quiz while Sr. M. Stephanie stands ready to assist K. Swartz with his masterpiece.

Everything on this earth was created by God, whether minute or large. It was put here for a purpose. To find this purpose, is one of the main features of the biology course.

Through the dissections of insects, worms, and frogs, the students learn the complexity which God has so skillfully put together. A deep understanding of the mysteries of nature can be gained in this class.

Here too, as in other science classes, the students create projects which may be entered in Science Day at T.U. Their projects are then entered into competition with the projects of students throughout Northwestern Ohio.





Commerce

Office Techniques

Today there are many fields of business to explore. Preparatory business course and the Commercial Department offers several courses to prepare students for this endeavor. The subjects taught in this department are: bookkeeping, business arithmetic, economic geography, commercial law, office practice, shorthand, and typing.

Business fundamentals and the duties required by business are stressed to the students in these classes. The commercial department at CCHS aims to develop traits of accuracy, neatness, thoroughness, and responsibility.

Students taking the Business Course obtain a basic knowledge of these subjects and can excel in one particular field if desirable. They also learn different office techniques and office manners. They are taught that efficiency and accuracy are its major assets.

The opportunity to take these subjects will enable them in future business opportunities to attain the goal for which they have worked.

Music Appreciation

Listening Art

Rhythmic melodies and soothing sounds pour from the hi-fi set as the Music Appreciation class listens attentively to cultural music.

These students also study the various works of great composers of the past and present time.

Harmony and theory classes prepare the student for future music careers.

Freshman and sophomore girls choruses sing in various assemblies and work with the hope of later becoming a member of the glee club.

J. Stuart and V. Gladieux enjoy J. Bonk's version of a mute. Sister Almeda eggs her on.

L. Perz, R. Schings, J. Wiesolek, D. Venier admire Book Week exhibit.

Library

Book Worms Feast

No matter what period of the day you might drop in, morning, noon or evening, you will always find students in the library. They are making use of the numerous advantages in the "kingdom of information."

Our library is equipped to handle almost any assignment. The reference room is available with up-to-date information for essays, math or science projects. The library contains almost 10,000 books and many periodicals and the latest editions of a few newspapers. It provides the reading and reference facilities necessary to make our educational program effective.

Home Economics

Household Skills

The girls at Central have the opportunity to learn how to become better wives and mothers and at the same time learn fundamental tasks of homemaking.

The purpose of Home Economics is to acquaint the girls with the important phases of food and nutrition, clothing and textiles, home management, interior decorating, home nursing, and child care.

Since the basis of a successful marriage is self-sacrifice, a girl must learn to cope with the problems that will face her in future years.

C. Wernet proves to Sr. Alice Marie and B. Koczorowski that she knows how to sew a seam.

L. Reau and K. Bristol watch as Sr. Kenneth demonstrates the correct way to roll pie dough.

Attendance Office

Absentees' Center

Sometime during the course of the year almost every student enters the attendance office. If he is tardy he receives a pink slip; a white slip excuses him; while a blue one sends him to penalty hall.

This office also keeps an accurate record of all tardiness and absenteeism, in addition to checking and verifying penalty attendance.

M. Hauser and S. Rutkowski aid Sr. Cleopha in checking absentee records.

"But it says here you've had the mumps," Mrs. Wroe smilingly tells T. Hahn.

Nurse's Office

Patients' Paradise

Mrs. L. Wroe, school nurse at C.C.H.S. can be found at any time during the busy school day in room 224. She is there in order to help the students with their aches or pains. Often she is in affiliation with Sister Cleopha in keeping the students in their classrooms.

Coach Dever

Mr. Dever, a graduate of the University of Toledo, has just completed his first year as Athletic Director. As coach of the track teams of 1955, 1956, 1957, he is well-qualified in the sports picture to guide Central's athletics. He is well-known to the students as moderator of Student Council and as teacher of ancient history and economics.

Head coach at Central since 1956, Mr. McHugh has infused into the team a desire to win, based on fine instruction and guidance and strengthened with constant practice. Central has always maintained a winning record and a fighting spirit, making us one of the greatest teams in the state. Mr. McHugh is a teacher of physiology which is an advantage in training boys in the field of body endurance and stamina.

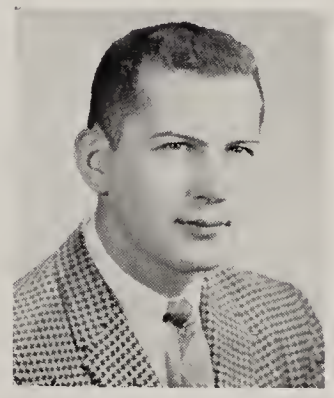
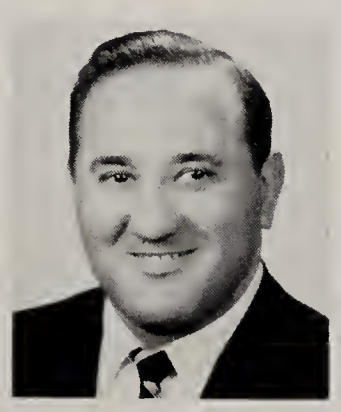
It is no wonder that our team was spirited on to so many victories this season. Mr. Basich, who has put his football experience and knowledge to work for Central's teams as assistant coach, has aided the teams to victory since the 1957-1958 season. Besides his coaching duties he teaches economics and sociology.



Coach Basich



Coach Piloseno

Since 1954, Mr. Piloseno, who teaches physical education six periods a day, has been one of the busiest men on the coaching staff. As line coach and mentor of the wrestling and bowling teams, which invariably had a winning record, he advocated speed and agility. Mr. Piloseno is the head of the basketball intramural program between the boys' conference rooms.

Using the fine technique and coaching received from Mr. Finn and Fr. Karl, the freshman football team tied for the city championship. With the knowledge gained from their struggle for the winning title, these boys should prove excellent material for the 1960-1961 season.

Mr. Robert Nichols

As basketball coach of the "Fighting Irish," he stresses a sound defense and believes that any boy, no matter how undeveloped, can become a winner. In his fourth year as coach, Mr. Nichols has a presentable (7-11) record considering he had no returning lettermen. His future years of coaching promise to be successful, because he has the cooperation and zeal of the up and coming squad. Mr. Nichols was also coach of the cross country team which finished in a fourth-place tie.

Varsity Basketball

Central's basketball team, because it was composed of many underclassmen, was said to be in its building year. Although the boys had spirit and accuracy, they lacked experience. Even with this handicap they ended the season with a seven-win, eleven-loss record, placing them in a position of fifth place. The underclassmen, who have gained immeasurable experience, will make a team to watch next season. This year the varsity has scored the highest number of points, in the Delphos St. John game, than in any other basketball game coached by Mr. Nichols.

Mr. Richard Finn, an outstanding leader and splendid coach of the Central's lightweights has led them to a twelve-five record, which enabled them to clinch second place. During the season, four of Mr. Finn's lightweights were moved up to varsity. With this showing Central can be enthusiastic about next year's lightweight and varsity.

Through teamwork Finn and his roundballers hope to duplicate, or even better, this year's record.

Freshmen

The Baby Irish proved not so green when it came to basketball this season. Under the coaching ability of Mr. Savage, the frosh piled up significant victories, enabling them to the city championship.

The sparking Irish offensive and defensive teams wound up their city league schedule with a 13-win, 2-loss record.

This is the kind of spirit that has made Central famous. We are proud of our freshman team, and hope they will do well on next year's lightweight squad.

The matmen of Central can be proud of the traditions of the rugged sport of wrestling. The sport of nobles, as it is often called, wrestling utilizes boys of all sizes and weights, and because of this factor it is attracting more and more boys each year. Boys who were too light for football or too short for basketball, can be matched with others of the same size, and have an equal chance of showing their abilities.

Central's grapplers, coached by Mr. Piloseno, closed their season with a 13-3-1 record. In the district tournament Central came in second. The boys who went to Columbus for the state finals were Brown, Kern, and Bauchman.

Golf

Central has again come up with another great golf team. In the past six years Central has been in first place five times and second once. This year's squad is again holding up the tradition of Central under the fine coaching of Father Conrad. Father Conrad is not only a good coach but also sets forth a good example as he shoots in the low 80's.

Baseball

According to Coach Richard Finn, the baseball team has an exceptional chance to bag the city championship again this year. We have a promising pitching staff and a host of newcomers to the team, who right now are proving themselves assets to the "Fighting Irish."

With their inspiring initiative, the lettermen are looking forward to another victorious season in America's national sport, as they have won city championship the last two years in a row.

The Irish batmen, who compete yearly in the city baseball tourney, will be fighting hard this season to wrap up a tremendous sports program.

Under the guidance of Father Jude, O.F.M. Conv., the Chess Club meets daily in the Trophy Room. Here they discuss various chess moves and then practice in preparation for the league matches.

Most Valuable Player Awards

J. Kern, D. Smith, M. Marciniak, B. Clark display their trophies.

Four proud boys walked from the sports banquet this year, and they had good reason to be proud. They were selected by their teammates as the most valuable assets to their respective teams: football, basketball, wrestling, and bowling. These boys, Michael Marciniak, Robert Clark, Gerald Kern, and David Smith, proved to be the most helpful players on the team.

Mike Marciniak, tackle and co-captain, made the defensive and offensive all-city first team this year. Besides being an outstanding leader, he is wanted by many colleges for his football prowess.

Bobby Clark, only 5′ 7″, received the MVP award for his agility, lightning-speed, and accuracy on the roundball court. Confidence and the will to win are Bobby's byways to victory.

Jerry Kern, captain of the grapplers, imitated his brother Tom by capturing the Most Valuable Player award, putting another feather (or should we say trophy) in the Kern sportscap.

Dave Smith was honored by his teammates by being selected the MVP on the Bowling squad. With a 170 average, Dave this year proved himself worthy of being the best on any Bowling squad.

The Girls' Athletic League celebrated its 30th anniversary as an athletic organization at their annual banquet. Through the combined efforts and guidance of Miss Leonhardt, advisor; Connie Koslowski, president; Peggy Hornyak, vice-president; Jean Welsheimer, secretary; Pat Hipp, treasurer; Pat Pastorek, bowling secretary; Adele Michalski, bowling committee chairman; and Barbara Lozinski, tennis committee, the girls were able to participate in such activities as bowling, tennis, swimming, horseback riding, and skating.

The goal of GAL, besides presenting an extensive physical and health program, is to promote and develop leadership, sportsmanship, and athletic ability.

At the banquet, girls with sufficient points were awarded letters, chevrons, pins, bracelets, and trophies.

Student Council

Central's Governing Body

Major activities of the entire school year are sponsored by the Student Council. It is composed of its four officers, commissioners, class officers, conference room representatives, and a representative from each recognized club.

The lower house of legislature includes the four class councils, senior, junior, sophomore, freshman; class officers, two senators, and class room representatives.

A few of the activities sponsored by the Student Council are Tag Day, Color Day, the Area Student Council Dance, Junior-Senior Prom, Santa's Mailbox, and many others.

During the meetings, the members discuss questions that are put in the suggestion box, future activities, and criticize past activities to see how they might be improved in the future.

Officers: P. Rethinger, R. Kowalski, R. Seymour, A. Schumacher, D. Lewis, F. David.

St. John Berchman

Servers of God

The St. John Berchman society, under the direction of Sister Mary Louis, S.N.D., was founded at Central in 1936. The members are permitted to serve daily Mass, lead the Stations of the Cross during Lent, and take part in the annual May Convocation. The officers participate in the Senior Day of Recollection and Retreat.

The chief purpose of this organization is to foster religious vocations.

Eucharistic Marian

Lovers of Mary

The aim of this organization is to promote devotion to Our Lady by encouraging frequent assistance at Mass, the reception of Holy Communion, and recitation of the rosary among the students.

The two chief activities of this committee are the promotion of a trip to Carey on Ascension Thursday, and the annual May Convocation, during which a statue of the Blessed Virgin is crowned in the presence of the student body.

Officers: S. Veigel, S. Welniak, S. Mattoni, D. Sobczak.

Apostolic Committee

Mission Helpers

As an auxiliary branch of the Society for the Propagation of the Faith, the members of the Apostolic Committee endeavor to raise funds for the missions.

The meetings are held monthly and here numerous activities are planned to accomplish their purpose, such as the Christmas Card Post Office, the sale of Christmas cards, ransoms, and participation in the Bishops' Relief Fund.

St. Hilda Guild

Maids of Christ the King

The St. Hilda Guild consisting of members of the girls' art classes held monthly meetings during the junior and senior art periods. There are three different orders within the Guild: apprentice, journeyman, and master. Each is assigned different duties.

A gift is given annually to Msgr. Harrington. This year, the girls designed and made a lavabo tray and sanctuary trays for the chapel. They were designed and executed by Suzanne Christie and Diane Pacewicz in enamel on steel.

CAA

Catholic Artists

The members of the Catholic Art Apostolic strive to revive true Christian art and raise the standard of art appreciation. Meetings are held regularly with art students in attendance.

The girls' annual project this year was the undertaking of designing a calendar which the American Crayon Company intends to publish.

Model houses based on modern architecture were designed by the boys in the art classes. They also undertook the reconstruction and repairing of miniature German Christmas scene.

FTA

Future Teachers

The Future Teachers of America organization, with Sister Clarisena as moderator, undertakes the training of students who plan on being teachers.

Through lectures by teachers the members become acquainted with methods and problems and with the subjects that should be taken in high school to meet college requirements.

In order to "get" the feeling of teaching, the members grade some of the papers for the faculty.

FNA

Angels of Mercy

Under the guidance of Sister M. Neri, R.S.M., the Future Nurses of America met monthly to acquaint its members with the profession of nursing. At some of these meetings, a guest speaker was present; at others, nurses from different hospitals were present to acquaint the members with hospital techniques.

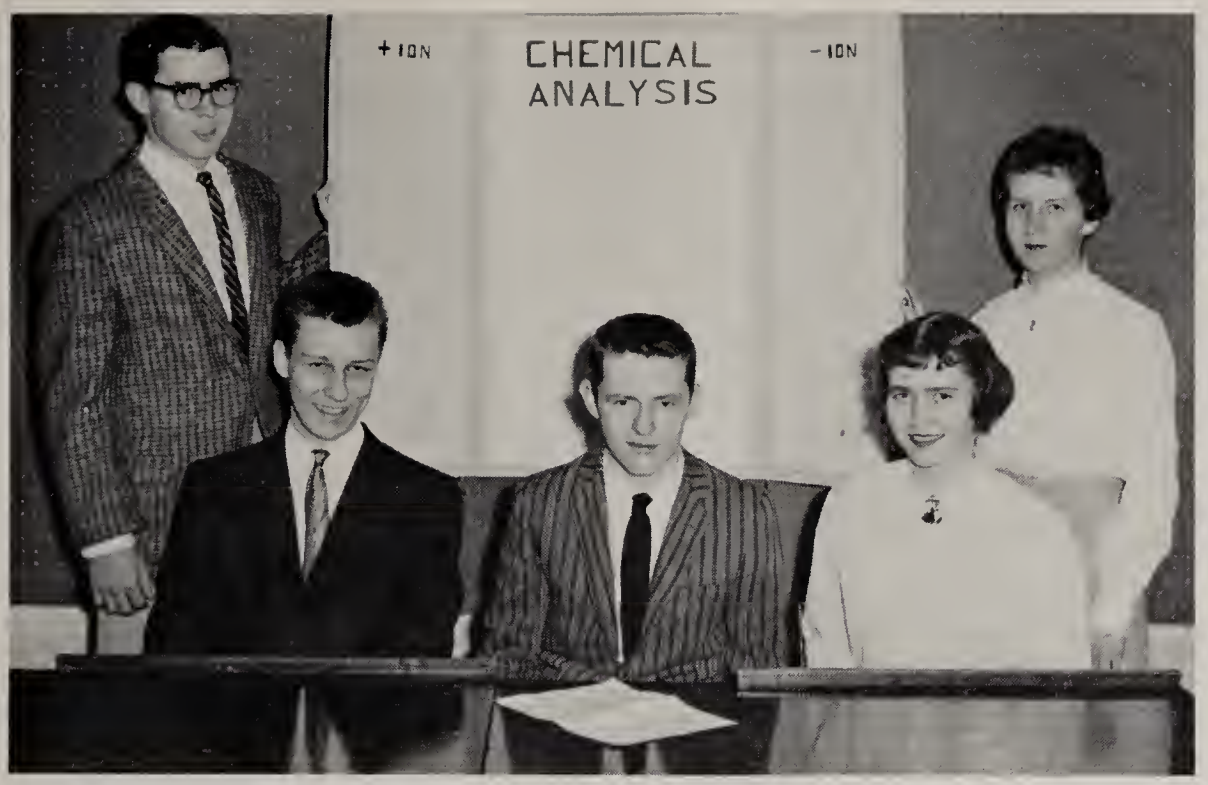
During the Christmas season, some of the members went for a tour of The Little Sisters of the Poor and distributed gifts to the people there.

Math Club

Al-Geo-Trig

Now in its seventh year of existence, this club has done much to promote mathematics here at Central. In monthly meetings, junior and senior members present new phases of math which cannot, due to time, be introduced in class.

The primary aim of the club, is to develop student interest in higher math. This is carried out by various math contests, student research, research projects and study of college entrance exams.



Officers: J. McDonald, T. Mazuchowski, D. Lewis, K. Kraemer, C. Tank.

Chemistry Club

Matter Minded

Every month the Chemistry Club met to listen to reports, hold discussions, and conduct experiments.

The highlight of the club this year was the tour through the Interlake Iron Corporation in East Toledo.

This was the club's third year in existence, and it certainly carried out its purpose —the furtherance of scientific knowledge.

Aquinas History Club

Young Historians

Now in its tenth year of existence, the History Club is open to all Sophomore and Junior students interested in supplementing their classroom work. Under the direction of Sister Mary of Mercy, the members hold weekly meetings to discuss historical topics of local, national, or world interest.

An annual spring field trip to a nearby spot of interest highlights the Club's activities for the year.

Officers: C. Soncrant, S. Tremmel.

Biology Club

Delirious Disectors

This club now in its sixth year of existence, under the direction of Sister Mary Perpetua, O.S.F., meets once a month for scientific discussions. Its main purpose is to promote an appreciation of science among the students.

The outstanding activity of this organization is the District and State Science Day at Bowling Green University in which the students participate.

K. Ferguson, M. Sequin, R. Fisher, K. Schwanzl.

The Camera Club

Shutter Bugs

Taking pictures is not the only reward of belonging to the Camera Club. As a member of this club students are instructed on the fine artistry of the camera and the process of photographic development. The excellent efforts and endeavors of the members are displayed with pride outside the boys' art room on a bulletin board reserved for this purpose.

Officers: M. Marshall, R. Rough, R. Adamski, C. Steiner.

Officers: J. Staczek, D. Sobczak, J. Koralewski, P. Hennisse.

J. C. W. A.

Civic Minded Club

The Junior Council on World Affairs met monthly to hold discussions and reports on current affairs.

On April 8, the club members attended the "Spring Institute," held at Toledo University. The subject was "Algeria." Central represented Morrocco.

On April 18 to 23 the members went on the annual trip to Washington and New York.

Officers: M. Fell, C. Thompson, L. DeLangis.

French Club

Friends Of France

The primary purpose of the French Club is to promote interest in the French language and to promote better international relations.

By playing French card games, the members increase their vocabulary and learn expressions to which they ordinarily would not be exposed in class. They also enjoy singing French popular and classical songs, listening to operas, seeing movies and slides about French life, and learning the customs of the country whose tongue they are endeavoring to master.

Radio Club

Licensed Hams

"This is station W8QVJ calling" is a phrase often heard by the Radio Club of Central Catholic High School which operates its own radio station. Ham - radio licenses are obtained by many of its members because of the club's instruction in radio code and theory.

Eight years in existence the club enables its members to contact other ham operators throughout the area from its station located in the basement of the music building.

Library Club

Book Knowledge

This year the Library Club has displayed many unusual projects. Throughout the year the new books are attractively exhibited. During Catholic Book Week, February 21-27, the theme—Read to Know, Know to Love—was carried out in four exhibits, Catholic Library Association Reading List, Religion, Science and Art, and books of general interest.

That same week, the Library Club served the Faculty Tea.

YCS

Study of Modern Life

Through the leadership of Father Redding the Young Christian Students, each in its own group, met once a week.

Their guide book "Patterns for Living" was divided into three major groups — Family Life, Social Problems, and Human Relations. At the meetings the members held panel discussions on one of the assigned groups which led to interesting debates.

During the three days of Retreat, pamphlets were distributed by the Y.C.S.

Annual Record

All of the memories of the 1959-60 school year have been bound together in this year's Centripetal.

After anxiously waiting, the Centripetal staff received their position in mid-October. Everyday the Centripetal staff could be seen in Room 124 busily working during the sixth period and after school.

The color and design of the cover, the dedication, and the theme were discussed from every angle.

Next, work began on each department of the book—the division pages, faculty, senior set-up, underclass set-up, classes, sports, and organizations. The layouts were planned and the write-ups were written. Then the material was sent to the printer which was returned and proofread. Now after a great deal of work the 1960 Centripetal has been completed.

In these two journalism classes, students were not only taught the professional ethics of a journalist, but they were also taught how to write from a Catholic point of view.

At the Senior Breakfast gold and silver monograms are awarded staff members who do outstanding work.

In order to get the "feel of a reporter" the members of the junior classes edit one issue of the Centric. This year they published the Easter edition.

Music Department

Central's Music Department provided many and varied activities for its students.

Its purpose is to aid students to acquire an understanding and appreciation of music. This aim is achieved by offering various musical opportunities to those interested in making a career of music. The department consists of the Marching Band, Orchestra, and Glee Club under the direction of Mr. Gerald V. DePrisco. Sister Mary Almeda, R.S.M., directs the Girls' Choral Groups, composed of the freshman and sophomore girls, and teaches music appreciation, harmony and theory. The members of the Girls' Choral Groups are trained to take their places in the Glee Club.

Organization's Pianist

For the past four years, Mr. DePrisco has been assisted by Pianist Jean Bonk. Jean has accompanied the Glee Club at all the assemblies, the Concert Band, and played for the orchestra at the Senior Play and the operetta. At the last performance of the operetta, in recognition of her outstanding work, Jean was presented a bouquet of flowers.

Orchestra

The orchestra, composed of twenty members has, through the past school year, provided music enjoyment for all.

The purpose of this organization is to develop the playing abilities of those musically inclined and thereby entertain others by their programs. It provided, as is the tradition, the music for the annual Senior Class Play, "The Solid Gold Cadillac." Their orchestrations for "South Pacific" helped to make this operetta one of the most outstanding in Central's history.

The students receive a closer insight of the orchestra when it entertains at the Christmas assembly. This organization lends its talents by playing at the various assemblies throughout the year.

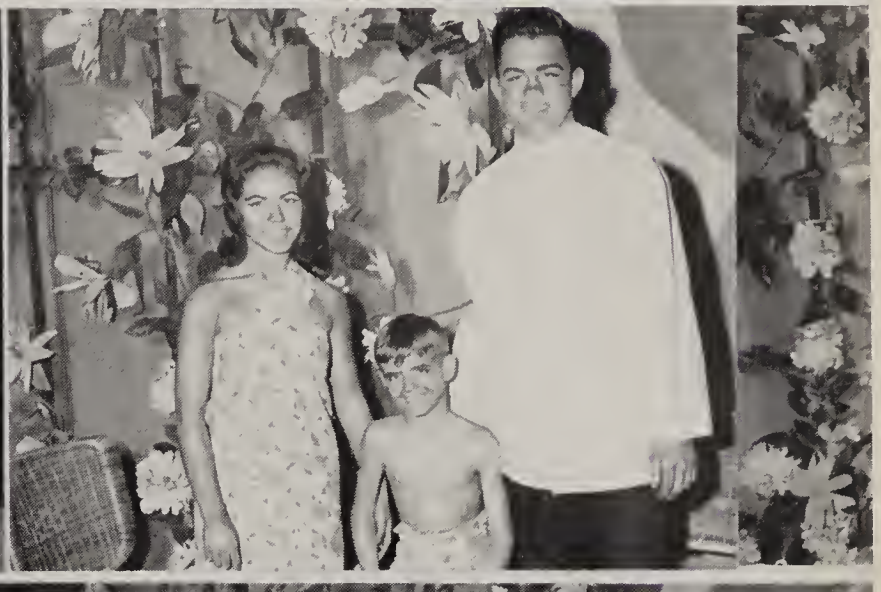
Glee Club and Orchestra members took pleasure in presenting this year's operetta "South Pacific" on April 29, 30, and May 1 at the State Theatre. The play, written by Rodger's and Hammerstein, was directed by Mrs. Roger Weiher and Mr. Gerald DePrisco.

The setting was a South Pacific island where the American forces were stationed. Here Luther Billis (Gene Antoszewski) and his fellow Seabees in "There Is Nothing Like A Dame" exhibit the frustrations of the sailors.

Ensign Nellie Forbush (Nancy Dennis), the "Cockeyed Optimist," attracted the attention of Emile de Becque (John Samsel) and on "Some Enchanted Evening" they fell in love. But Nellie decided that "I'm Going To Wash That Man Right Out Of My Hair" when she learned of his past marriage to a Polynesian woman who bore him two children.

A second romance story developed between Lt. Cable (Norman Clark) and Bloody Mary's (Nancy Post) lovely Torkinese daughter (Barbara Ignatowski). The "Younger Than Springtime" couple have a few joyous moments in "Happy Talk."

Emile believing Nellie was beyond his reach volunteered for a perilous mission on which Cable was killed. He returned in despair, "This Nearly Was Mine", to discover that during his absence, Nellie had learned to love him and his children.



1: "Once You Have Found Her Never Let Her Go." 2: Billis Brews up a deal with his "sweaty-pie." 3. Liat makes Cable feel "Younger Than Springtime." 4. That's my little "Honeybun." 5. Henri takes Nagana and Jerome to their father. 6. Capt. Brackett gives Adams last instructions while Harbison looks on. 7. "There Is Nothing Like a Dame." 8. "Some Enchanted Evening" is sung by the entire cast.

Mrs. Partridge looks astonished as she receives stockholders support and shares.

Senior Play

Solid Gold Cadillac

This year the senior class under the direction of Mrs. R. Weiher, staged Howard Teichmann's "The Solid Gold Cadillac" in Central's auditorium November 20, 21 and 22.

The story centered around a little old lady by the name of Mrs. Partridge (Portia Raetke) who owned ten shares of stock in the General Products Corporation run by four business tycoons (Gene Antoszewski, Norm Clark, Kenneth Lewandowski, Dave Holewinski) during the absence of its President, Mr. McKeever (John Samsel) who had accepted a government job in Washington.

When Mrs. Partridge started to ask questions about the business that the tycoons didn't want to answer, they gave her an unimportant job in the corporation. Since she doesn't have anything to do she writes to the stockholders and makes friends with them.

During the time Mr. McKeever had been in Washington, General Products had not received any contracts. The four tycoons sent Mrs. Partridge to Washington to get Mr. McKeever to send them some contracts. After finding out Mr. McKeever's reason for not sending the contracts, Mrs. Partridge joins forces with Mr. McKeever. The four tycoons decide to fire Mrs. Partridge when they hear this, but the stockholders sign all of their stock over to Mrs. Partridge and she has complete control over the business.

1. Getting rid of a businessman's bulges, Mr. McKeever?
2. "May I ask a question?"
3. The ayes have it.
4. Our own private news comentators.
5. "Ye call me chief . . ."
6. What's being advertised now, gentlemen?
7. Smile pretty, Mrs. Partridge.

Homecoming

Football Queen

Homecoming. the event which welcomes back the "Alumni and Friends of Central," took place this year at the Central-DeVilbiss game.

Although the rain fell abundantly during the ceremonies, spirits were not dampened as Diana Bradley was chosen to reign as homecoming queen. Claudia Thompson, Pat Quilter, Judy Campey and Lorraine Todd were her attendants.

The attendants and the escorts, M. Sweeney, D. Anway, R. Pero, T. Szyerpski and D. Holewinski stood by as Carlo De Falco, last year's queen, placed the tiara on Diana.

TASC Dance

Queen Candidate

The Senior Class chose Bonnie Gawronski as their choice for queen of the Area Student Council. The queen elected reigned at the Student Council dance, "Blue Mist," which was held February 6 in the Naval Armory. From the twenty-one area high schools represented, Bonnie was chosen to be a member of the queen's court.

The names of Patricia Quilter, Nancy Jagodzinski, Marcia Jesionowski, and Claudia Thompson were on the ballot with Bonnie's when the senior class voted.

Prom

Aqua Fantasia

The annual Junior-Senior prom, held on the evening of May 6, was planned by the Junior Class under the leadership of Judy Weidner and Carl Bialorucki. Sr. M. De Paul was their moderator. The theme was captivated in the music of the Steve Snyir Orchestra.

May Convocation

On this day . . .

Although we crown a different homecoming queen every year, in May, we crown the Queen who has been and will be our Queen forever. She is our mother—Mary.

This year on May 29, T. Pero and D. Sobczak crowned Mary because they had the highest number of points in the Eucahristic Marian Committee. Students gathered on the campus to sing songs of praise to her and recite the rosary.

Graduation

Final Step

On the tenth day of June, the senior class of Central Catholic High School will don the traditional white and blue robes and solemnly receive their diplomas, thus concluding four momentous years.

Although there is an eager anticipation of things to come, there is still a sorrow at saying farewell to the many teachers and friends they have met.

Vocation or Avocation Center

Mrs. Pfeiffer confers with S. Orzechowski concerning an application for a nursing scholarship.

With the purpose of helping students find their vocations or avocations, Central opened a new Guidance Program under the direction of Mrs. Velma Pfeiffer, Mr. Robert Nichols, and Mr. Alan Miller. Interviews for juniors and seniors were conducted daily in Room 108 at every period except the fifth, which was for appointment making only. Requests for after school appointments for students without study periods, or those wishing more time, could be made in the Guidance Office.

In aiding the students, the counsellors took into consideration the student's scholastic records, the various objective tests he had taken, extra-curricular activities he entered, his family and his health record, his financial ability, his past school record, his educational and vocational interests and his interest in plans for the future.

They sought scholarships and made available to the students catalogs containing information on most of the universities and colleges in the United States. Pamphlets were loaned, the U. S. Service information and possible loan situations were listed.

Freshman Apostolic Committee members and Father Jude, load car with needed medicine to be shipped to a Franciscan Mission in Africa.

Mission Minded

The freshman class through the efforts of the Apostolic Committee, conducted a medicine drive in which they contacted the doctors and druggists in their neighborhoods. The success of the drive could be seen in the medicine and food brought in. These ranged from baby food to tranquilizers. All together the students collected about twenty large containers of medicine which has been taken to the Carey Seminary to be packed and shipped to a Franciscan Mission in Africa.

Essay Winner

An essay, entitled "The Meaning of a National Shrine in the United States," was the assignment. Rosemary LaPoint, with the rest of her class, did her research work, took notes, wrote her theme and on the designated day handed in her theme. On Christmas Eve she was informed that her essay was the national winner. To add to her happiness, Monsignor N. Schumaker, superintendent of the Diocesan Catholic schools, came to Central and presented the award, a gold watch, to her.

JOHN E. KWIATKOWSKI, 1943-2013

Sylvania man served State Dept. 27 years

BLADE STAFF

John E. Kwiatkowski, who was entrusted with the delicate logistics surrounding arms-control talks, just one assignment in a U.S. State Department career that took him to embassies around the globe, died Monday in Hospice of Northwest Ohio, South Detroit Avenue. He was 69.

Kwiatkowski

Mr. Kwiatkowski of Sylvania was ill for two years and had congestive heart failure, chronic obstructive pulmonary disease, and renal failure, his wife, Carol, said.

He retired in 1994. Over 27 years, he worked at embassies or consulates in Paris; the former Salisbury, Rhodesia; Monrovia, Liberia; Wellington, New Zealand; Nassau, Bahamas; London, Hong Kong; Kingston, Jamaica; Mexico City; Antwerp, Belgium; Vienna, and Yerevan, Armenia.

He was a communications specialist in the Marines, and early in his career in the foreign service, he dealt in diplomatic communications. He worked shifts around the clock and from a secure room in an embassy, he transmitted the ambassador's cables to Washington and received messages back.

"It was all secret communications. He had to know Morse code," his wife said. A higher-up noted his talents, and his duties increasingly were administrative and logistical. He might be called to visit U.S. citizens who found themselves in a local jail abroad and arrange housing for those assigned to the embassy and ensure the facility remained in good repair.

A favorite, if stressful, assignment came in the late '70s, when his services were loaned to the Arms Control and Disarmament Agency for the U.S.-Soviet Strategic Arms Limitation Talks in Geneva. He arranged travel and accommodations for negotiators; set up news conferences, and hired translators. He set up receptions, taking care to avoid diplomatic faux pas even through beverage choices.

"The Russians have to have the proper vodka," he told The Blade in 1977. "We always make sure we serve them Russian vodka. It's duty-free and a lot better anyway."

Toledo was still home, and the couple returned in retirement. He had jobs at Spuyten Duyval Golf Club and Heather Downs Country Club and Olander Park and volunteered to deliver meals and visit with senior citizens.

He was born July 13, 1943, to Valeria and Chester Kwiatkowski. He grew up on Parkside Boulevard and from a young age found work — up before school to help the milkman with deliveries; as a caddie at the Inverness Club, including for the 1957 U.S. Open. "He said he felt his parents didn't owe him anything and said he always felt he needed to earn his own spending money," his wife said.

He was a 1961 graduate of Central Catholic High School and afterward enlisted in the Marines.

A former parishioner of St. Pius X Church, he was a member of Little Flower Church.

Surviving are his wife, Carol Kasper Kwiatkowski, whom he married July 3, 1965; sons, Paul and Peter Kwiatkowski; daughter, Connie Collins; sisters, Jean Roman and Joyce Zakorczeny, and six grandchildren. His brother, James Kwiatkowski, a longtime Blade copy editor, died May 28, 2012.

At Mr. Kwiatkowski's request, his body was donated to the University of Toledo Medical Center, the former Medical College of Ohio.

Memorial services will be at 10:30 a.m. Saturday in Gesu Church.

The family suggests tributes to Servants of Jesus, Dearborn Heights, Mich., or the Oblates of St. Francis de Sales in Toledo.

THE BLADE/AMY E. VOIGT

Accused mom denied release; bond is set

Despite a request for supervised release, the mother of a missing 18-month-old girl remained in the Lucas County jail Wednesday night.

Angela Steinfurth appeared before Lucas County Common Pleas Judge Gary Cook for arraignment. During a Wednesday morning court appearance, the judge denied the release and ordered bond be set at $100,000 with no option of posting a 10 percent cash bond.

Judge Cook said the facts in court documents suggest that the charge of obstructing official business warranted the bond.

Mrs. Steinfurth is accused of lying to police during the ongoing investigation into the disappearance of her daughter, Elaina Steinfurth, who has been missing since June 2. She was initially charged in Toledo Municipal Court with child endangering for allegedly knowing her daughter was seriously injured and not seeking medical attention.

The program takes coded information that dispatchers put into the police communications system, filters it for location and content, and sends it out to individual phones.

Only crimes such as burglaries, break-ins, and shootings prompt an alert, and they have to occur within the Old Orchard neighborhood.

Mr. Waniewski said a tech-savvy friend and former business partner, Dave Bonitati, helped develop the program.

Mr. Waniewski said Mr. Bonitati told him it would cost up to $100,000 to expand citywide.

In April, Mr. Waniewski wrote to the Ohio Ethics Commission seeking guidance.

"I am involved in a business partnership with a couple of guys. We successfully ran a start-up Internet company from 1996 to 2001 before our business was sold," the email said. "I remain involved with my partners on other ventures. One day, after reading a story of a contentious Block Watch meeting that I hosted in my city council ict, one of m s never got a reply. A spokesman for the commission could not be reached for comment Wednesday.

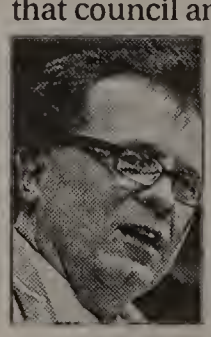
Now, Mr. Waniewski said he has no problem with a mayoral veto and seeking competitive bids.

At the same time, Mr. Waniewski said it was his and Mr. Bonitati's idea so no one else could have briefed the rest of council on the project.

Mr. Loukx still said a veto would be appropriate but it is ultimately Mayor Mike Bell's choice.

"It is just to make sure that council and the administration have a better chance to look at it in light of all the knowledge we have and that there hasn't been any impropriety in light of the selection process," Mr. Loukx said. "At this time there are too many questions."



Loukx

Councilman Mike Craig said he thinks Eye Citizen could be a good service citywide but he didn't know Mr. Waniewski was involved financially.

Senior Farewell

Dear Central,

Summer is coming and graduation is at hand. This idea never bothered us before, but then we were not the class that was graduating.

Remember four short years ago, when we came to you as bewildered freshmen? Everything about you was so big, so new, so different. Soon we were "in the swing of things," and by the second summer, you had already endeared yourself to us.

The next year, as sophomores, we tackled and licked that tough schedule and, of course, "lorded it" over the new "Baby Irish".

Ten short months, another summer, and we were juniors. This was the year for class rings, for the Junior-Senior Prom. Time passed so quickly then. Suddenly we were seniors.

Now we are facing another summer. But it is different, for we won't be back. This has been a wonderful year, spiritually, academically and socially. To leave seems so unreal, so distant. But it is here.

That we will miss you doesn't need to be said. We will always remember the things we have done here and we will always "cherish and love you, Central Catholic High."

WHAT IS A COMMUNITY?

Webster's Dictionary describes a Community thusly: "Community: 1. A body of people living in the same place under the same law; hence, an assemblage of animals or plants living in a common home under similar circumstances. 2. Society at large; the public, or people in general; restrictedly, the people of a particular place or region; hence the region itself. 3. Joint ownership or participation; as a community of good. 4. Common character; likeness."

Webster had a lot of good ideas about a Community. But we like the last part of his description best of all. We like to think that a community is a lot of people—people who have the same common goals—people who will work together to achieve a common purpose.

At Willys we are dedicated to helping wherever and whenever we can to bring about a successful conclusion to anything attempted in the best interests of our Community—Toledo.

Glass Has Made A Difference

Now is the time to reflect upon the "good ole' days" in school — the many friends, your favorite teachers, sports and dances and parties. But when looking at today's school architecture, we think you'll agree that glass has made a difference!

Here's picture-proof that school corridors don't have to be dark and dreary tunnels. No longer must walls be solid and opaque. Today, more attention is being paid to daylight and view.

When reflecting upon the advantages of this glass age, we think you'll agree that the "good new days" are better.

ELECTRICITY

. . . a vital force in your future.

In the professions, in business and industry, in the home and on the farm versatile electricity will play an ever-increasing part in your life, because of this simple, economic fact:

You really get your money's worth when you spend it for electricity

New canine un

Sylvania Twp. officers star

Drug dealers have something fierce to fear with the arrival of Officer Speedy, the Sylvania Township Police Department's rookie canine cop.

Trained in narcotics detection and the location of missing persons, the dual-purpose dog will be used to track drug activity and find fleeing suspects. Speedy embarked on his career on Friday, accompanied by Officer Patrick Charest.

Sylvania Township Police Chief Robert Boehme hopes the dog will send a message to potential criminals that the police department will be proactive against drug use.

"We're not crime-ridden [in Sylvania], but we'd be naive to think there's no drugs out here," said Chief Boehme. "We can't go in a circle around a car and detect drugs with our nose. The dog is going to assist with that type of thing."

Speedy is part of Sylvania Township's first canine unit in many years. His predecessor, Charlie the German shepherd, retired nearly 10 years ago, Chief Boehme said. To finance the canine unit, the department used $20,000 from a law enforcement trust fund partially composed of seized assets from drug-related arrests.

The department spent $14,000 for the canine and for six weeks of handler training at Gold Shield Canine Training, a Columbus facility that trains police dogs. The police department spent an additional $6,000 on equipment, such as special leashes and a car outfitted to accommodate a dog, Chief Boehme said.

Imported from the Czech Republic, Speedy is a 14-month-old

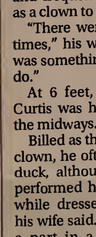
Professional clown left job to entertain

By JIM SIELICKI
BLADE STAFF WRITER

Eugene Curtis, a South Toledo resident who quit his factory job to pursue his passion to entertain as a magician known as "Quacky the Duck Clown," died Friday at the University of Toledo Medical Center.



Curtis

Mr. Curtis, 79, died from heart failure, said his wife, LaVerne.

Mr. Curtis, a 1952 graduate of Maumee High School, attended Bowling Green State University where he majored in physical education. He quit after a year to elope with the former LaVerne Bail. The two were married over the Labor Day weekend in 1954.

"We were just a couple of teenagers who were in love with each other," his wife said. "He always said he liked my smile."

Mr. Curtis, who was born on Oct. 8, 1934, to Earl Wilbur and Katherine Curtis of Maumee, held jobs at a florist and in a grocery store in Maumee before going to work at Haughton Elevator Co., where he stayed for 14 years.

He quit in 1968 to become a professional clown, a move that ended the regular paychecks but began a 50-year-career of entertaining.

The early days were rough, his wife said, because she did not work outside the home at that time. She took various temporary jobs to help pay the bills. Later she became his stage assistant and frequently would dress as a clown to work with him.

"There were a lot of lean times," his wife said, "but it was something he wanted to do."

At 6 feet, 9 inches, Mr. Curtis was hard to miss on the midways.

Billed as the world's tallest clown, he often dressed as a duck, although at times he performed his magic shows while dressed in a tuxedo, his wife said. In 1977 he had a part in a two-hour Roy Clark television special State Fair U.S.A filmed at the Illinois State Fair in Peoria.

The duck voice was developed while in high school, where he used it to rattle the teachers, his wife said.

He also used his Quacky voice while working with young people as a recreation supervisor in Maumee.

While on the midway, he would dress like a duck, speak like a duck, and perform magic tricks and perform balloon sculpture, primarily of animals.

His son, Chris, said his father would go through 2,000 balloons a day.

The balloons had to be blown up, which is where his four children were involved by using a portable air compressor.

"It was our responsibility to inflate those balloons. It took a lot of time," said his son, who had to follow his father on the midway to keep him supplied.

The duck and magic act took the family across the country and into Canada for fairs and festivals during the summer. In the winter, with the family at home, Mr. Curtis would travel solo or perform at area events and conventions.

"My childhood was different than most children my age because when kids were out playing baseball and summer sports, I was out traveling the country and seeing areas most people don't see in a life time," his son said.

"It was very rewarding," he added. "I wouldn't trade it for a 'normal' life."

Mr. Curtis' bookings would include 90 days at county and state fairs.

He was a member of the Showman's League of America-St. Louis Chapter, the World Clown Association, and the International Brotherhood of Magicians.

He operated outside his home on South Byrne Road, where a large sign advertised "Clown for Hire." His property included a half-acre garden and beehives, which the children helped tend while their father was away.

He belonged to the Maumee Valley Beekeepers Associations.

"Everybody thinks that if your dad is a clown, you must be laughing all the time," his son said. "It wasn't like that. He had high expectations of us children."

In a 1969 profile in The Blade, Mr. Curtis admitted clowning and magic did not provide financial wealth. But the job had another appeal.

"There's not as much money in it as people think, but there's more to life than money," he said.

He said he quit the factory job, a move he didn't take lightly because of his wife and four children, because of the lack of satisfaction.

"I like clowning. You always see the good points of people. You know, never the bad. That's the nice thing about being a clown."

Mr. Curtis stopped traveling for shows about 2009 and stopped performing a year later because of heart issues, his wife said.

He is survived by his wife, LaVerne; daughters Rebecca Curtis, Dorothy Partin Cooch, and Sharon Curtis; son Chris; eight grandchildren; 13 great-grandchildren; brothers Thomas and John, and sisters Kathleen Brandes and Carol Ann Neiman.

His body was donated to UTMC, the former Medical College of Ohio. Memorials are suggested to the UTMC Mundt Fund for research into the treatment of heart failure. A memorial service will be scheduled later.
